Gas Detection Assist 1.4.1

zlib 1.3.1

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to the developers and contributors of the zlib open-source project. Your dedication and hard work have provided an invaluable tool that has significantly enhanced our project's efficiency and performance. The robust and reliable compression library you have created is a testament to the power of open source collaboration. Thank you for your continued efforts and contributions to the open source community.

We further also thank all other developers of every Open-Source Project included in this product.
